Our success is based on two fundamental areas; internal processes and the delivery of quality.

QUALITY

ACCREDITATION

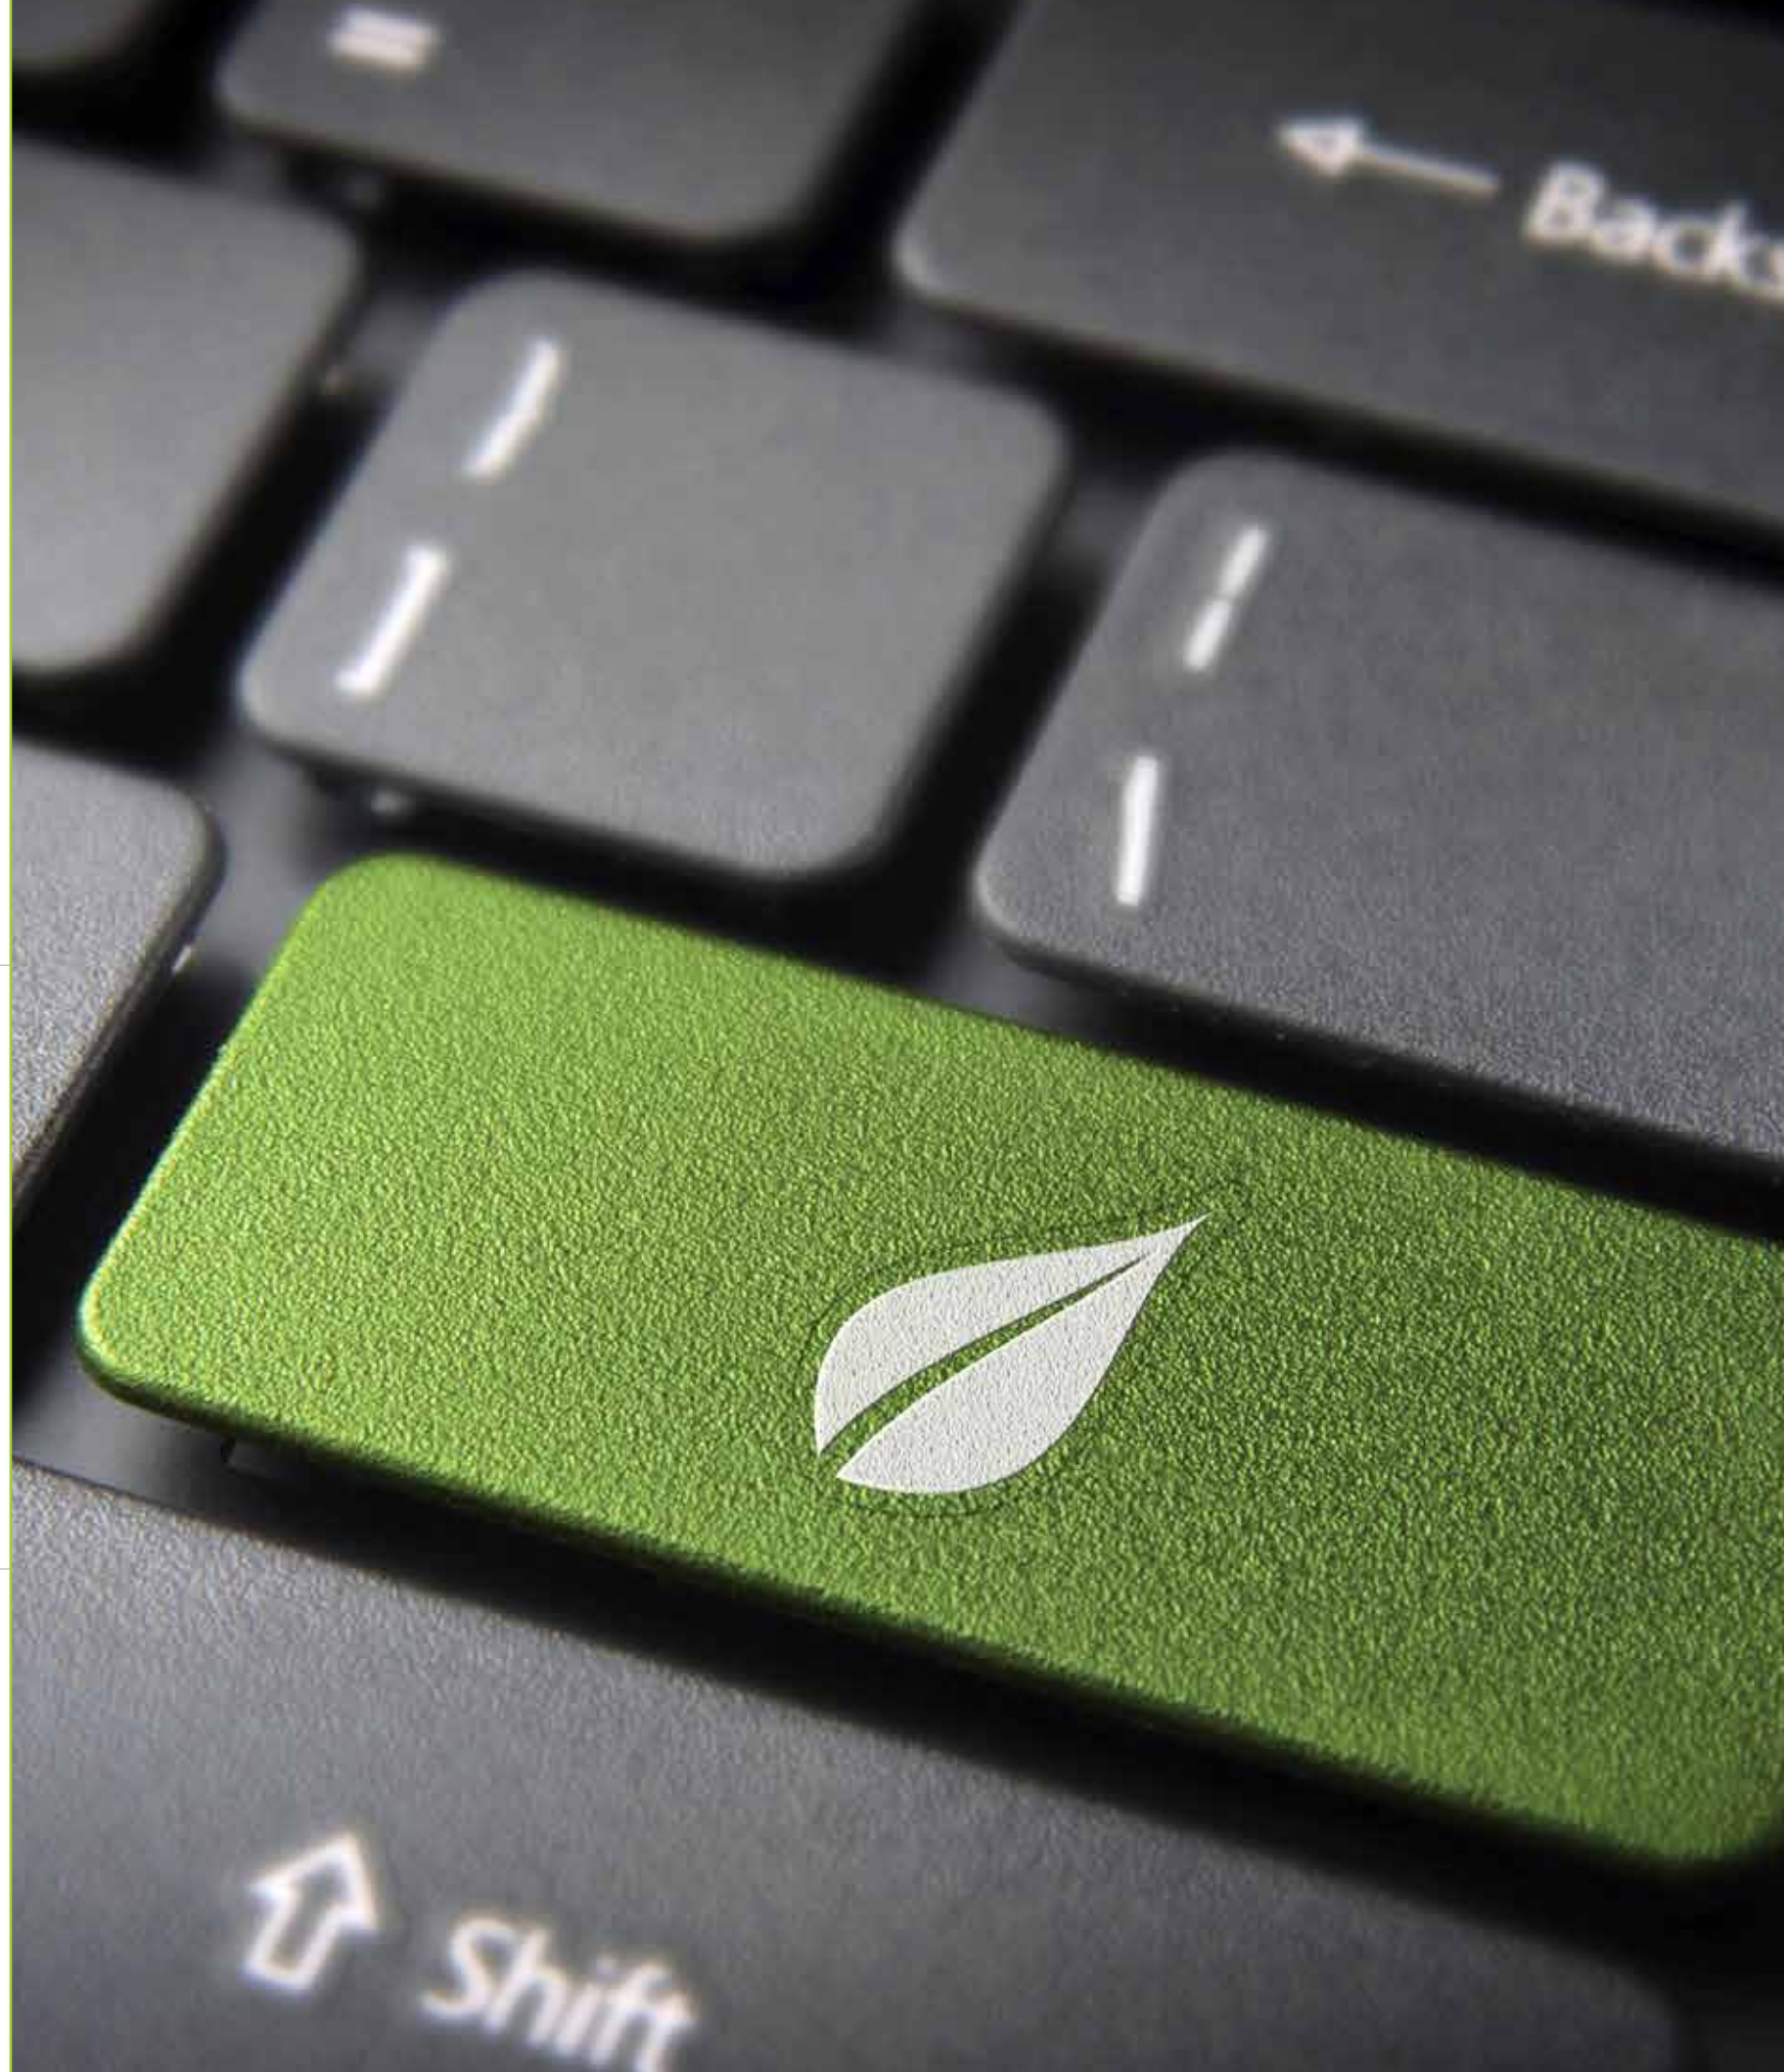

One of the cornerstones of our ethos is our belief in accreditation and we demonstrate a tangible commitment to quality, health and safety, and the environment.

ISO CERTIFICATION

Our internal system is based on ISO standards. Adhering to the ISO 9001 Quality Management system, the ISO 14001:2004 Environmental Performance system, and the ISO 18001:2007 Health & Safety Management system. ISO International Standards ensure that products and services are safe, reliable and of good quality. This is a strategic tool that reduces costs by minimising waste and errors, and by increasing productivity. By standardising the way a business is run, it streamlines functions which ultimately provide you, the client, with a better service.

LEED® CERTIFICATION

Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED®) is a suite of rating systems for the design, construction and operation of high-performance green buildings. In order to achieve LEED® certification, buildings must meet stringent design and construction guidelines that address the entire building lifecycle. Several of our projects have been awarded LEED® certification and it is transforming the way we think about how our buildings are designed, constructed, maintained and operated.

SUSTAINABILITY

Being eco-friendly used to be an 'optional' extra, something to show you a company is in tune with modern practices. We've never believed that. Whatever you want to call it – ecologically friendly, environmentally aware, green, sustainable, energy efficient – we've always subscribed to that fact that we've only got one planet and we should look after it.

We have create interiors that have contributed to LEED certified buildings. We also ISO14001 accredited. Together, this means that we're perfectly equipped to advise our clients how to make their space as environmentally-friendly as possible. However our recommendations go deeper than achieving green rating – it's also about long term saving money through energy efficient practices and reducing both noise and light pollution.

A wise client will spend money to saving money & the planet.
